Buenas noches, good evening! Welcome to Ballet Hispánico’s Noche de Oro, a celebration of 50 incredible years of building new ways of exploring the Latinx culture through dance.

Tonight’s program starts with Arabesque, a work originally choreographed in 1984, set to Spanish composer Enrique Granados’s Twelve Spanish Dances. The ballet exemplifies the company’s aesthetic during the 1970s, when the company was experimenting with fusing flamenco with the classical ballet vocabulary. The choreographer, Vicente Nebrada, was one of only a few Latinx choreographic voices in the classical ballet world at that time. We honor Nebrada’s legacy and the impact of Ballet Hispánico’s mission to create a platform for Hispanic choreographers through this reconstruction.

Tiburones, which translates to “The Sharks,” is a work in direct response to the re-emergence of the musical West Side Story in our entertainment world today. In its day, West Side Story was an extraordinary piece of theatre, as it was the first time the Puerto Rican community was featured in a major motion picture. While the musical gave us the incredible music of Leonard Bernstein and the captivating choreography of Jerome Robbins, it also left cultural scars for generations of Latinx people. Tiburones seeks to question the gaze of who gets to tell a story, while dispelling the iconic stereotypes that continue to haunt the Latinx community to this day. The work layers our vision of taking back our narrative through the voice of a Latina choreographer, Annabelle Lopez Ochoa.

Spanish choreographer Gustavo Ramírez Sansano is known for his athletic and innovative movement vocabulary. In 18+1, Sansano delves deep into the music of Pérez Prado, the Cuban bandleader, pianist, composer, and arranger who popularized the mambo in the 1950s. Created during his 19th year as a working choreographer, Sansano creates an explosive musical celebration that captures the essences of our beloved Cuban music.

Thank you for joining us this evening in celebration of Ballet Hispánico’s 50 years. Enjoy the show, disfruten!

TIBURONES (2019)

Choreography by Annabelle Lopez Ochoa
Music by Pérez Prado, Dizzy Gillespie, and the Funky Lowlives
Compositions by James Bigbee Garver
Costume design by Mark Zappone
Lighting design by Joshua Paul Weckesser

Performed by Christopher Bloom, Jared Bogart, Simone Cameresi, Shelby Colona, Antonio Cangiano, Amanda del Valle, Paulo Hernandez-Farella, Laura Lopez, Omar Rivéra, Gabrielle Sprauve, Dandara Veiga, Lenai Wilkerson, and Mariano Zamora

In Tiburones, Annabelle Lopez Ochoa addresses the discrimination and stereotypes placed upon Latinx culture and the power the media has in portraying these themes by diminishing the voices of Latinx artists. Ochoa deconstructs gender roles and identity to revitalize an authentic perspective of Puerto Rican icons appropriated within the entertainment industry.

INTERMISSION

18+1 (2012)

Choreography by Gustavo Ramírez Sansano
Music by Pérez Prado
Costume design by Ghabriello Fernando
Lighting design by Caitlin Brown and Savannah Bell

Performed by Christopher Bloom, Jared Bogart, Leonardo Brito, Simone Cameresi, Amanda del Valle, Paulo Hernandez-Farella, Laura Lopez, Omar Rivéra, Gabrielle Sprauve, and Lenai Wilkerson

18+1 celebrates Gustavo Ramírez Sansano’s 19 years as a choreographer and the vulnerability, care, and hope that comes with each artistic endeavor. In a display of subtle humor and electric choreography, the movement merges with the playful rhythms found in Pérez Prado’s mambo music. Sansano draws from his history and memory to take a joyous look at the past, present, and coming future.
REPRESENTATION OF LATINX IDENTITIES IN U.S. MEDIA
Nadia Martinez-Carrillo

Ballet Hispánico promotes and celebrates the complexity of Latinx cultures and identities through its performances. Its work encourages audiences to approach Latinx cultures through the creative contributions of Latinx artists. These artists also provide an empowering self-representation platform for Latinx artists that runs contrary to the historically discriminatory, gendered, and Anglo-centered representations of Latina/o/x/e identities in U.S. media.

Despite an increased visibility of Latinx people and cultures in the media over the past several years, mainstream narratives do little to acknowledge that Latinx cultures—as we now know them—have been present in the United States since before the birth of the nation. Moreover, discussions about the cultural significance Latinx cultures embody as part of the identity of the United States rarely take place in mainstream media. These issues, combined with the lack of Latinx self-representation in the entertainment industry, have contributed to a manifestation of Gaye Tuchman’s notion of symbolic annihilation for Latinx identities in the media—either by a complete omission of representation or misrepresentation of them. As a result, Latinx identities have been constructed in the media as cultural “others” and “foreign.”

Through platforms like Ballet Hispánico, underrepresented groups can increase their own visibility and resist stereotypical depictions of their own identities when they participate in creating media narratives about their own experiences. However, Latinx authors rarely have access to these opportunities, despite evidence that increasingly diverse U.S. audiences

2 Tuchman, G. (1978). The symbolic annihilation of women by the mass media. In G. Tuchman, K. A. Daniels, & J. Benet (Eds.), Hearth and Home: Images of Women in the Mass Media (pp. 3-38). Oxford University Press prefer similarly diverse content. For instance, Latinx creators comprise only 0.7% of all directors for top Hollywood films, none of whom identify as women. Latinx people also comprise just 4.6% of all film roles, major and minor, despite constituting 18% of the U.S. population and having the highest purchasing power among moviegoers. Decisions about which movies to make, as well as budgeting, marketing, and hiring of film crews, are made by Hollywood executives who identify as 91% white and 82% male. Latinx people are also underrepresented as network executives, leads, creators, directors, and writers in scripted broadcast, cable, and digital platform television shows. However, the exclusion of Latinx people from media industries has not prevented these corporations from profiting off Latinx work by appropriating their music, dances, and stories in media products.

When looking at media content specifically, representations of Latinx cultures in mainstream media do not fairly represent the heterogeneity, importance, and scope that these cultures have as part of the U.S. identity. Latinx cultures are usually discussed as an homogeneous and foreign cultural monolith. Latinx identities, then, are limited to stereotypical and gendered depictions of dangerous masculinity for Latinos and hyper-sexualization for Latinas, who tend to be portrayed as exotic objects to gaze upon. These representations trivialize and marginalize gender, race, and sexual orientation by erasing LGBTQ Latinx experiences from the screen, and consequently from the public discourse. Black/Latinidad is also usually absent in representations of Latinx identities, especially when it refers to Black Latinx people with dark skin complexion who are usually excluded from playing Latinx characters altogether. Black Latinx experiences are then negated by U.S. media by showing characters constructed as either Black or Latinx, but never both.\footnote{Molina-Guzmán, I. (2021). The blurring binaries of Black/Latinidad in US popular culture. Flow. https://www.flowjournal.org/2021/11/blurring-binaries-black-latinidad/} Thus, intersectional Latinx identities and stories are usually missing from the screen, as well as the acknowledgment of the vast and heterogeneous complexity of Latinx cultures. Through its artistic contributions, Ballet Hispánico affirms, empowers, and celebrates Latinx identities often marginalized by the mainstream media.

Nadia I. Martínez-Carrillo is an assistant professor of communication studies at Roanoke College, where her research focuses on global media studies and mediated constructions of marginalized identities in popular media and across cultures. She explores the cultural and political implications of these representations and seeks to identify effective ways to resist narratives and media dynamics that perpetuate social inequality and the stigmatization of social groups.

ARTISTIC LEADERSHIP

EDUARDO VILARO, artistic director and CEO

Eduadro Vilaro is the artistic director and CEO of Ballet Hispánico. Vilaro was named Ballet Hispánico’s artistic director in 2009, becoming only the second person to head the company since its founding in 1970, and in 2015 was also named chief executive officer. Vilaro has infused Ballet Hispánico’s legacy with a bold brand of contemporary dance that reflects America’s changing cultural landscape.

Vilaro’s philosophy of dance stems from a basic belief in the power of the arts to change lives, reflect and impact culture, and strengthen community. He considers dance to be a liberating, non-verbal language through which students, dancers, and audiences of all walks of life and diverse backgrounds can initiate ongoing conversations about the arts, expression, identity, and the meaning of community.

Born in Cuba and raised in New York from the age of six, Vilaro’s own choreography is devoted to capturing the Latin American experience in its totality and diversity and through its intersectionality with other diasporas. His works are catalysts for new dialogues about what it means to be an American. He has created more than 40 ballets with commissions that include the Ravinia Festival, the Chicago Sinfonietta, the Grant Park Festival, the Lexington Ballet, and the Chicago Symphony.

A Ballet Hispánico dancer and educator from 1988 to 1996, Vilaro left New York, earned a master’s in interdisciplinary arts at Columbia College Chicago, and then embarked on his own act of advocacy with a 10-year record of achievement as founder and artistic director of Luna Negra Dance Theater in Chicago.

The recipient of numerous awards and accolades, Vilaro received the Ruth Page Award for choreography in 2001, was inducted into the Bronx Walk of Fame in 2016, and was awarded HOMBRE Magazine’s 2017 Arts and Culture Trailblazer of the Year. In 2019 he received the West Side Spirit’s WESTY Award, was honored by WNET for his contributions to the arts, and was the recipient of the James W. Dodge Foreign Language Advocate Award. In August 2020 City & State Magazine included Vilaro in the inaugural Power of Diversity: Latin 100 list. In January 2021 Vilaro was recognized with a Compassionate Leaders Award, given to leaders who are courageous, contemplative, collaborative, and care about the world they will leave behind. Vilaro is a well-respected speaker on such topics as diversity, equity, and inclusion in the arts, as well as on the merits of the intersectionality of cultures and the importance of nurturing and building Latinx leaders.
TINA RAMIREZ, founder

Tina Ramirez founded Ballet Hispánico in 1970 and served as artistic director until 2009. Under Ramirez’s direction, over 45 choreographers created works for the company, many of international stature and others in the early stages of their career.

Ramirez was born in Venezuela, the daughter of a Mexican bullfighter and grandniece to a Puerto Rican educator who founded the island’s first secular school for girls. Her performing career included international touring with the Federico Rey Dance Company, the Broadway productions of Kismet and Lute Song, and the television adaptation of Man of La Mancha.

In recognition of her enduring contributions to the field of dance, Ramirez received the National Medal of Arts, the nation’s highest cultural honor, in 2005. Juilliard awarded her an honorary degree, doctor of fine arts, in 2018. Numerous other awards include the Honor Award from Dance/USA (2009), the Award of Merit from the Association of Performing Arts Presenters (2007), the Dance Magazine Award (2002), the Hispanic Heritage Award (1999), a Citation of Honor at the 1995 New York Dance and Performance Awards (the Bessies), the New York State Governor’s Arts Award (1987), and the New York City Mayor’s Award of Honor for Arts & Culture (1983).

JOHAN RIVERA, associate artistic director

Johan Rivera was born in San Juan, Puerto Rico, and began his dance training at the School for the Performing Arts, Puerto Rico, under the direction of Waldo Gonzalez. Rivera graduated magna cum laude with a bachelor of fine arts from the New World School of the Arts/University of Florida in 2013. While there, he had the opportunity to perform the works of Robert Battle, Kyle Abraham, Peter London, Daniel Lewis, Merce Cunningham, and Doris Humphrey, while simultaneously working with local dance companies in Miami.

During his tenure with the Ballet Hispánico company, Rivera had the pleasure of performing the ballets of choreographers such as Annabelle Lopez Ochoa, Gustavo Ramírez Sansano, Pedro Ruiz, and Eduardo Vilaro. In addition, he was a vital member of Ballet Hispánico’s Community Arts Partnerships team as a teaching artist while on tour and at home in New York City.

Aspiring to further his knowledge and skills, Rivera ventured into the world of higher education. In 2016 he received a master of arts in executive leadership with high honors, an achievement he dearly treasures as the first member of his family to have this opportunity. Upon graduation, Rivera had the honor of mentoring and directing second company BHdos in the fall of 2016 before taking over as rehearsal director for Ballet Hispánico’s main company. After four seasons as the rehearsal director, Rivera transitioned to Ballet Hispánico’s marketing department as the digital marketing manager, playing a key role in the development and creation of the organization’s virtual programming. Now, as the associate artistic director, Rivera supports the artistic curation for the company and Ballet Hispánico’s thought leadership programming alongside Artistic Director and CEO Eduardo Vilaro.

LINDA CELESTE SIMS, rehearsal director

Linda Celeste Sims began training at Ballet Hispánico School of Dance and graduated from LaGuardia High School of the Performing Arts. Sims has received the 2016 Inspiración Award from Ballet Hispánico, has won Outstanding Performance at the 2014 New York Dance and Performance Awards (the Bessies), and most recently, she received the 2017 Dance Magazine Award.

Sims has been featured on the cover Dance Magazine, as well as on So You Think You Can Dance, Dancing with the Stars, the Ellen DeGeneres Show, the Mo’Nique Show, Live with Kelly and Michael, and the Today Show. Sims has has appeared at the White House Series, Youth America Grand Prix, Vail International Dance Festival, and galas in Budapest and Vienna, and originated featured roles by Judith Jamison, Donald Byrd, Alonso King, Dwight Rhoden, Ronald K. Brown, Mauro Bigonzetti, Jennifer Muller, Karole Armitage, Lynn Taylor Corbett, Rennie Harris, Christopher L. Huggins, and Azure Barton.

She teaches master classes around the world and is a certified Zena-Rommett Floor-Barre instructor. Sims danced for Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater from 1996-2020 and was also the assistant to the rehearsal director.

CHOREOGRAPHERS

ANNABELLE LOPEZ OCHOA, choreographer

Lenai Alexis Wilkerson is from Washington, D.C., where she attended the Baltimore School for the Arts. Wilkerson graduated from the University of Southern California as a Glorya Kaufman scholar with a bachelor of fine arts in dance and a minor in political science in 2019. She is one of the seven 2016-2017 dance scholars to be awarded a scholarship from Nigel Lythgoe’s DizzyFeet Foundation. At University of Southern California Kaufman, Wilkerson performed the works of Forsythe, Kylián, Graham, Marshall, Barton, Balanchine, Grimes, and Rhoden, among others. Additionally, she has trained seasonally with Hubbard Street Dance Chicago, Bolshoi Ballet, Miami City Ballet, and with legendary ballerina Suzanne Farrell. This is Wilkerson’s third season with Ballet Hispánico.

MARIANO ZAMORA GONZÁLEZ, apprentice

Mariano Zamora González is a Costa Rican artist residing in New York City. González began his training at Jazzgoba Dance Academy and later continued at CityDance School and Conservatory in Washington, D.C. He accepted a scholarship to pursue a bachelor of fine arts in dance from the University of Southern California under the direction of Jodie Gates. González also acquired a minor in architecture to combine his visual and kinesthetic talents with functionality of form and space. He is eager to explore various platforms, on concert stages, commercially, and through media entertainment, as his artistic career takes off. This is González’s first season with Ballet Hispánico.

DESIGNERS

RANDY BARCELÓ, costume designer

Randy Barceló was a multi-talented Cuban-born designer and artist. Barceló was the first Hispanic person to be nominated as best costume designer for a Tony Award for his designs for Jesus Christ Superstar in 1972. Barceló designed costumes for many other Broadway productions, including Lenny, The Magic Show, and Ain’t Misbehavin’, among others. Barceló also worked with several dance companies, including Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater and Ballet Hispánico, where he worked on his final project in 1994, Alberto Alonso’s Si Señor! Es Mi Son!.
SAVANNAH BELL, lighting designer

Savannah Bell is a New York-based lighting designer and production electrician. Bell often spends time away from home working at places such as Okoboji Summer Theatre, Williamstown Theatre Festival, Santa Fe Opera, and touring the nation with Broadway musicals. Bell’s past dance opportunities include the Missouri Contemporary Ballet, Jody Oberfelder, and Green Space Studios.

GHABRIELLO FERNANDO, costume designer

Ghabriello Fernando is a fashion designer from Puerto Rico who is known for his architectonical designs and classic silhouettes. Fernando’s aesthetic is a bond between past and future; sophistication with a modern twist. From an early age, he showed a talent for sewing and design. As a dancer, he began what became his life’s work by designing dance costume for classical ballets such as The Nutcracker, Dracula, Romeo and Juliet, and many others. In 2011 he debuted as an emerging designer and his popularity spread abroad. Soon enough, many people started knocking on his door for exclusive designs, including celebrities and the First Lady of Puerto Rico, Wilma Pastrana. In 2013 he moved to New York and worked with great designers such as Angel Sanchez, Gustavo Cadille, and Zac Posen. In 2015 Fernando redesigned costumes for Pedro Ruiz’s Club Havana for Ballet Hispánico.

DONALD HOLDER, lighting designer

Donald Holder has worked extensively in theatre, opera, dance architectural, and television lighting in the U.S. and abroad for over 25 years. Holder has designed more than 50 Broadway productions and has been nominated for 11 Tony awards, winning the Tony for Best Lighting Director for The Lion King and the 2008 revival of South Pacific. Holder was head of the lighting design program at the Californian Institute of the Arts from 2006-2010, was the recipient of an honorary doctorate from Muhlenberg College, and is a graduate of the University of Maine and the Yale University School of Drama.

DIANA RUETTIGER, costume reconstruction

Diana Ruettiger has served as wardrobe supervisor for Luna Negra Dance Theater and costume designer for Dance for Life Chicago, Columbia College, and the Chicago Academy for the Arts. Ruettiger has worked as stitcher and crew for the Joffrey Ballet and numerous Broadway touring shows. Ruettiger owned and operated a costume shop for 25 years before moving to New York to begin her tenure supervising wardrobe for Ballet Hispánico.
JOSHUA PAUL WECKESSER, lighting designer

Joshua Paul Weckesser is originally from Normal, Illinois. Weckesser is the founder of Bread & Roses Productions, dedicated to providing production support to art-based originations. Working primarily in circles of dance, his designs have been seen across the U.S. and internationally. Weckesser has been working closely with Molly Shanahan/Mad Shak as a lighting designer and core collaborator since 2003. He also works with LEVELdance and the Chicago Human Rhythm Project as their resident lighting designer. Weckesser’s career highlights include lighting the first ever evening-length production of American Tap at the Kennedy Center, working with Karole Armitage in the Netherlands, and touring with Gobsmacked and Che Malambo.

MARK ZAPPONE, costume designer

Mark Zappone served Pacific Northwest Ballet from 1983 to 1988 as costume designer, shop supervisor, and wardrobe master. Zappone then moved to Monte Carlo, where he managed costume shops for Les Ballets de Monte-Carlo and Le Cabaret de Monte-Carlo, continuing to Switzerland and Amsterdam with Holiday on Ice. Zappone has collaborated with many renowned choreographers and designers, including Twyla Tharp, Christopher Wheeldon, and Yuri Possokhov, among others. In addition to his many ballets for PNB, Zappone has designed costumes for numerous dance companies worldwide.

PRODUCTION

GLENN ALLEN SIMS, company manager

Glenn Allen Sims performed for 23 years as a principal dancer with Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater. Sims grew up in Long Branch, New Jersey, where he began his classical dance training at the Academy of Dance Arts in Tinton Falls, New Jersey. He received a scholarship to the Ailey School’s Summer Intensive and attended the Juilliard School under Benjamin Harkarvy. Sims has been featured on several network television programs, including BET Honors, Dancing with the Stars, the Ellen DeGeneres Show, and So You Think You Can Dance. Sims, a master teacher, is a certified Zena Rommett Floor-Barre instructor and certified Pilates mat instructor. He has performed in the White House Dance Series and for the King of Morocco. Sims was featured on the cover of and has written a guest blog for Dance Magazine.
SK WATSON, production manager and lighting reconstruction

SK Watson has worked as a lighting designer for live events and theatre for nearly 20 years regionally and in New York. Watson was the lighting supervisor for New York Stage and Film for four seasons. They have designed and coordinated lighting for events and concerts in New York City for the past several years. Favorites include Rihanna’s Diamond Ball, War Child, Michael Kors, and many more. They have also worked extensively with theatre companies in New York, including Underling Productions, St. Bat’s Players, Everyday Inferno, and others, and have designed over 50 productions for the Cincinnati Shakespeare Company. Watson holds a bachelor’s degree from Centre College and a master of fine arts in lighting design from Ohio University. They are thrilled to be working with Ballet Hispánico.

AMY PAGE, wardrobe director

Amy Page is a costume creator and wardrobe supervisor who is thrilled to return to Ballet Hispánico as wardrobe director. Page enjoys working with costume designers and artists to transform their dreams into reality. Through lightning-fast quick changes and marathon loads of laundry, her calm, capable presence brings a ray of sunshine to the backstage world. Her costumes have graced the stages of Lincoln Center and the Joyce Theater and can be seen in the repertory of Kyle Abraham’s A.I.M., Dance Theater of Harlem, Keigwin and Company, Dorrance Dance, and Camille A. Brown and Dancers. She has had the pleasure of dressing Tatiana Maslany in Network and the cast of Hamilton on Broadway and has worked in television as a costume fitter for seasons three and four of The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel. Page holds a bachelor of fine arts from the University of North Carolina School of the Arts.

CAITLIN BROWN, lighting supervisor

Caitlin Brown has worked as a lighting designer for dance and theatre for eight years. Brown is a recent graduate of Ohio University, receiving a master of fine arts in lighting. Designs include Silent Sky (Ohio University), Revolt. She Said. Revolt Again. (Hangar Theatre), Septem (Nouveau Sud Project), Elements (DanceFX Atlanta), Henri (Dance Theatre of Greenville), Freedom Train (Matthews Playhouse), and Hand to God (Actor’s Theatre of Charlotte). Brown’s associate and assistant credits include Macbeth (Ohio University), Sense and Sensibility (Indiana Repertory Theatre), and Rhinoceros (Tantrum Theatre).
MORGAN LEMOS, stage manager

Morgan Lemos is happy to be working with Ballet Hispánico for the 2021-2022 tour season. Lemos has previously worked on productions by Mount Holyoke College Dance Department, where they graduated in 2020. During this time they also performed for the Mount Holyoke College Dance Department, as well as the Five College Dance Consortium and the Doug Varone and Dancers Company. Lemos holds a bachelor’s degree in physics from Mount Holyoke College.

VERONICA KULIK, wardrobe assistant

Veronia Kulik is originally from Chicago, Illinois, and received dance training at Ruth Page Center for the Arts and the Chicago Public High School for the Arts. In 2020 Kulik graduated with a bachelor of fine arts in dance from George Mason University under the direction of Susan Shields. During her time at Mason, she interned under Cat Buchanan at Mason’s School of Dance costume shop. She worked as part of the wardrobe crew for the Center of the Arts in Fairfax and dressed companies such as Bill T. Jones/Arnie Zane, Virginia Opera, Westminster Choir, and many others. Kulik has also worked for Carolyn Kostopoulos of Carelli Costumes at the Spoleto Festival in Charleston, South Carolina, as part of the costuming department. Since moving to New York, Kulik has been dancing for Terre Dance Collective and is Alejandro Cerrudo’s company assistant for his production of It Starts Now. Kulik is beyond thrilled for her first tour with Ballet Hispánico.

Ballet Hispánico first performed at the Moss Arts Center in 2013 with Sortijas and other repertoire.

DIÁLOGOS: COLORISM IN THE ARTS AND ANTI-BLACKNESS WITHIN LATINX COMMUNITIES
What are the sources and effects of colorism and anti-blackness within the arts, and what steps should be taken to eliminate them? Virginia Tech faculty Letisha Engracia Cardoso Brown (sociology) and Carmen Giménez Smith (English) engaged with Eduardo Vilaro (artistic director and CEO), Michelle Manzanales (director, School of Dance), and Gabrielle Sprauve (dancer) from Ballet Hispánico in this candid, online conversation on identity and belonging, co-presented by El Centro-Hispanic and Latinx Cultural and Community Center at Virginia Tech.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 2022
LATIN SOCIAL DANCE WORKSHOP
Mambo, salsa, merengue... these dances and more were taught at this accessible, fun workshop for all ages with Ballet Hispánico.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 2022
VIRGINIA TECH CLASS VISIT: ARTS AND SOCIAL TRANSFORMATION
Members of Ballet Hispánico facilitated a dance workshop and discussion in this trans-disciplinary course for undergraduate Virginia Tech students.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 2022
SCHOOL-DAY PERFORMANCE
Public, private, and homeschool students in kindergarten to grade 5 from Blacksburg, Christiansburg, and Radford City attended this free performance by Ballet Hispánico.

Special thanks to El Centro-Hispanic and Latinx Cultural and Community Center at Virginia Tech, Letisha Engracia Cardoso Brown, Iuliia Hoban, Nadia Martinez-Carrillo, Erika Meitner, Veronica Montes, Lauren Oliver, Carmen Giménez Smith, and Rachel Lin Weaver

Go Deeper

Ballet Hispánico’s program, Noche de Oro, features work that spans the company's 50-year history and is inspired by cultural traditions from Puerto Rico, Argentina, Brazil, and Cuba, among other countries. Considering its breadth, what are predominant themes, moods, and images that emerge from the repertoire?
In the Galleries

NAMWON CHOI: THE SHAPE OF DISTANCE
Thursday, January 27-Saturday, March 26, 2022
Ruth C. Horton Gallery

Based in Savannah, Georgia, Namwon Choi’s vivid monochromatic blue landscapes compress distance and invite an intimate perspective. Trained in traditional Korean painting, Choi’s multi-perspectival, geometric, and finely detailed depictions of scenic byways evoke poetic ideas of time, transition, and states of in-betweenness.

SHIN-IL KIM: IN BETWEEN FIVE COLORS
Thursday, January 27-Saturday, March 26, 2022
Miles C. Horton Jr. Gallery and Sherwood Payne Quillen ’71 Reception Gallery

Based in Seoul, Korea, Shin-il Kim explores the limitations of language to make video sculptures and animations that shift between perception and reality. With light and color, Kim builds form from the negative spaces of characters and the gaps between lines. Language becomes a barrier to seeing, and its absence reveals meaning under the surface of knowledge.

Land Acknowledgement

Virginia Tech acknowledges that we live and work on the Tutelo/Monacan People’s homeland and we recognize their continued relationships with their lands and waterways. We further acknowledge that legislation and practices like the Morrill Act (1862) enabled the commonwealth of Virginia to finance and found Virginia Tech through the forced removal of Native Nations from their lands, both locally and in western territories.

We understand that honoring Native Peoples without explicit material commitments falls short of our institutional responsibilities. Through sustained, transparent, and meaningful engagement with the Tutelo/Monacan Peoples and other Native Nations, we commit to changing the trajectory of Virginia Tech’s history by increasing Indigenous student, staff, and faculty recruitment and retention, diversifying course offerings, and meeting the growing needs of all Virginia tribes and supporting their sovereignty.

We must also recognize that enslaved Black people generated revenue and resources used to establish Virginia Tech and were prohibited from attending until 1953. Through InclusiveVT, the institutional and individual commitment to Ut Prosim (That I May Serve) in the spirit of community, diversity, and excellence, we commit to advancing a more diverse, equitable, and inclusive community.

Health and Wellness

The Moss Arts Center adheres to the guidelines of the Virginia Department of Health and Virginia Tech in its operations, including protocols for distancing, face coverings, and cleaning and sanitation. Our status may change according to changes in university operating procedures. Find the most up to date information at artscenter.vt.edu/visit.

We ask patrons to do their part in keeping our community healthy. If you feel unwell, please stay home.

BY SUPPORTING THE ARTS ON GIVING DAY

1. You make the Virginia Tech experience better.
2. You inspire the next generation of creators.
3. You reimagine the research landscape.

A donation of any amount will make a big impact.

Don’t delay!
Giving Day ends February 24, 2022 at noon.

All Giving Day donations to the Moss Arts Center will be recognized in the 2022-2023 season Moss Arts Center programs. We appreciate your support!

The Golden Triangle Award

The YMCA VPI Golden Triangle Award is just over an inch long and stands for mind, body and spirit, a unity of purpose and balance that is essential to lives committed to service.

The Fellowship of the Golden Triangle was started in 1928 as a way to recognize men and women who contributed appreciably to Virginia Tech’s campus and community through their involvement with the Y. It includes such illustrious members as Julian A. Burruss, Ellison A. Smyth, Walter S. Newman, John Whittemore, Charlie Yates, Leander Deitrich, George Litton, & Paul Reaves. You may recognize these names from several campus buildings!

The Golden Triangle award was begun in 1928 by Daniel Bowden, who was the Student President of the YMCA at the time.
